

COMPLIANCE

Vendor oversight is no longer a back-office task—it's your first line of defense.

Regulations now travel with your data, systems, and customers—straight into vendor hands.

1

Know the Rules—And Where They Apply

Map regulations to vendors (GLBA, HIPAA, GDPR, CPRA, NIST). Create vendor-specific checklists.

2

Make Compliance Part of Your DNA

Go beyond yes/no. Ask for SOC 2, ISO, PCI reports. Review policies and contract language.

3

Monitor, Document, Repeat

Set review cycles. Watch for vendor changes. Log evidence in real-time—not just for audits.

4

Use Frameworks as Your North Star

Use OCC/FDIC guidance, NIST, and TPRM 101 to structure and scale your program.

4

Make TPRM Everyone's Business

Train stakeholders. Embed compliance into onboarding. Offer real-time prompts and support.

Proactive compliance isn't reactive—it's designed to flex, monitor, and evolve.

Want more? Read the complete blog:
"Staying Ahead of the Curve: Proactively Managing TPRM Regulatory Compliance"

READ NOW